A MASS PROTEST

Some 8,000 citizens of Alberta gathered en masse at Victoria Park, Calgary, on Wednesday night to protest the continuance in Office of the present Government, the arrangements being in charge of the officials of The People's League.

The numbers on hand were surprising as the pavilion was overcrowded, and the overflow had to be accommodated in the "new barn" adjacent, and some, more on the Grandstand. It was a good humored crowd, ready to be led, and prepared to follow almost anybody who would oppose the existing regime. Quite obviously that section of the people of the Province antagonistic to the Abernethians are numerous (perhaps more so than suspected) are prepared to become visible and vocal, and are ready for action. If the "war" is on, somebody is going to find out pronto, that the people of Alberta are not 90% behind the present premier—not by a long shot.

One other fact stood out like a rose thorn at that same meeting, which should serve as notice to the old party politicians, namely, that while the non-Social-Crediters are regarded to fight Aberneth and his cohorts to the last ditch, they want, and must have, united action. If political party leaders will not unite voluntarily under any old name and persist willy-nilly in keeping the party flag aloft (for the good of themselves) then they may reconcile themselves to being left out in the cold, because the voter, the man-on-the-street, the fellow who wins elections, is going to demand and will follow only the leader who is prepared to throw party and party politics completely out of the window in favor of united action and — BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION.

ANOTHER COMMISSION

We have a certain quantum of "Government by Experts" with Headquarters in some sort of a divine called "Fig Tree Court" (wherever the devil that is) in Provincial Government, but commissions are the safe refuge of the Federal Government.

How many of these handsomely commissioned commissioners are commissioning around the world these days on behalf of the poor oppressed people of Canada? Personally, we have lost in keeping the party flag aloft (for the good of themselves) then they may reconcile themselves to being left out in the cold, because the voter, the man-on-the-street, the fellow who wins elections, is going to demand and will follow only the leader who is prepared to throw party and party politics completely out of the window in favor of united action and — BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION.

Well, how many are there now on the payroll? The latest is the commission to study the Constitution Lord help us! There are five of these laddies, and there will be a host of legal talent with secretaries, stenographers and what not to assist them. In due course, they will return to Parliament, a document which will be promptly filed and tucked away for future reference. And if it does contain anything really worth while, the same solution was probably suggested years before by some news paper man, whose name the commission will conveniently forget.

It would O.K. any bill of expense that this commission might render, if it would merely recommend the abolition of all provincial governments in toto, and the assumption by the Federal Government of all the functions of the Government, the same as in Great Britain.

One thing at least, that we would then be sure of, is that any legislation passed by such a Government could not possibly be classes as "ultra vires"—unless, of course, some of these infernal experts managed to get into the "Seats of the Mighty" and then any thing might happen.

REHABILITATION

A lot of money has been laid aside by the Federal Government for the purpose of rehabilitating certain areas of the Prairie Provinces, and many schemes have been suggested, mostly along the lines of water conservation, by the damming of creeks, and rivers.

The proper place to catch water is at the source of the water supply in the mountains, where nature more or less has in certain places done part of the work. Admittedly the cost of constructing dams in the mountains (or elsewhere for that matter) will be tremendous, but if the water must be conserved following the spring run-offs, it seems logical to store it in the mountains.

While on the subject of rehabilitation, we have not as yet read or heard anything concerning opposition to the sabotaging by the C.P.R. of the Western section as an irrigation area. Apparently the C.P.R. is going to be permitted to work its own sweet will until it finally jockeys practically all of the farmers on the project into the position where they will have no legal right to receive any water at all.

Perhaps when that has been accomplished, the Calgary Board of Trade may waken up to what has happened. The farmers themselves seem to be quite indifferent.

LIBERAL LEADERSHIP

Now that the matter of the leadership of the Conservative party has been definitely settled for some time at least, by the decision of Mr. Bennett to continue at the helm, there is talk in some quarters concerning the leadership of the Federal Liberal Party. This has been caused chiefly by the break between Mr. King and Mr. Hepburn. Mr. Dunning's name has been suggested to succeed as well as certain others, including that of Mr. Heley from the Maritimes. When the smoke all blows over, however, it will likely be discovered that Mr. MacKenzie King will be found just as firmly ensconced as ever in the leadership of the party which he took over after the death of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

ORGANIC DISORDERS

Mr. Lon Cavanaugh, President of the Calgary Board of Trade, in his speech Wednesday night suggested that the Provincial Government's activities "amounted to a mere diarrhoea of words." It might not be impolite to suggest that this form of organic disorder is also accompanied by an almost complete constipation of thought.

WE, THE PEOPLE OF ENGLAND

Many years ago an incident occurred in England which is not without its bearing on the Alberta situation. Some seven tall men living on Tooley Street, London, felt that they had a grievance against the then government. So they presented a petition to parliament demanding rectification of their troubles. Their petition bore the magnificent opening sentence: "We, the People of England." All seven tall men signed it, but nobody else—Vegreville Observer.

DRIED OUT

(From the Calgary Alberta)

I passed them as I drove along one day, trucking up north, but I don't see their way, to ever wagon, and two fill it with all their early goods, so plentiful and small. A tired man, who tried not to mind. The same he'd about on their way, behind.

Two lads beside him on the covered seat. Paper for all the things now to see and greet. Ages for life, for great adventure, high back had for me a smile, friendly but shy. A woman, her youth, buried in drifting sands. A mother, and her eyes were looking back.

Back to the house, for twenty years called home. Back to the day, there, as a bride, she'd come. Back to that grave, by a once willowed brook. So many things she saw in that lost look. Her work, her youth, buried in drifting sands. Forced out by poverty, with empty hands.

And oh, boy faces, I hope that same grin goes on to your new ones, and sisters in. I hope the future holds for you, great things. Green wheat fields and joy full harvest brings. And to forget—my memory vainly tries. The haunting heartaches in that mother's eyes.

—Mrs. B. Lewis.

Canada's Banks
Sponsor Broadcasts

CANADA'S Chartered Banks through their Public Relations Adviser, Vernon Knowles, are conducting a series of non-political, non-controversial radio broadcasts on the Pacific Coast and Operations of Canadian Banks it was learned from Edmonton today.

The first of the series was heard Tuesday night, September 7th. The addresses are being broadcast over an all-Alberta Network Tuesday night from 10:15 to 10:30 and Wednesday in the daytime from 1:15 to 1:30. Mr. Knowles, who homesteaded in Alberta in 1909, is a former well known newspaper man, who has worked on several western daily newspapers.

He was Editor and Manager of the Winnipeg Telegram and later Managing Editor of the Winnipeg Tribune. He has also served in the Parliamentary Press Gallery at Ottawa and in the Press Galleries of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Ontario. He was editor and a Member of the Board of Directors of the Toronto Mail and Empire from 1929 to 1932 and from 1933 to the end of last year was managing Editor of the Toronto Daily Star. In January 1937 he assumed his present position.

In commenting on the series of broadcasts, Mr. Knowles laid particular stress upon the fact that they were designed to be completely non-political.

JAPAN IS JUDGED

IF A NATION has lost the respect of the rest of the civilized world, has it lost something truly valuable?

Japan has further departed from the company of peaceful, civilized and well intentioned nations by her recent military actions in Peking and Shanghai.

Upon the basis of her past and with out resort to the accepted modern methods of vetting grievances, Japan has lined up flotillas of warships to our exploding steel and fire into the crowded Chinese cities.

She has not contented herself with fighting armed China, but has destroyed civilians, as well. By direct means and indirectly through pestilential diseases she has caused the death of many thousands of innocent victims.

It is the old, glorious, time-honored way of settling a dispute. Once it was sanctified by religion and glorified by the brave trappings of martial gals. Today, the world sees it as a hideous, mechanized murder. That Japan, a nation of people with so many truly admirable characteristics, should sink to such a level, is a tragic thing in the eyes of her former friends. Obviously it may be said that ethics are all very well, but arms make empires. We doubt that the ends Japan seeks will, if attained, justify the means.

No. 3

ONCE AGAIN, Y. Ed. takes pen in hand and writes the daily situation in the High School.

"Business" quotes Mr. Meeres and "Business" quotes the class, as the former scribbled a certain name of one of the feminine sex on the board for an infraction of the legal constitution just drawn up. We hope that no name appears there on the board, because corporal (or maybe colonial) punishment will be given; or as an option, one subject must be dropped (This would be a terrible calamity to such conscientious students) But going on the assumptions such foolish detractions are to be avoided and quietness will reign supreme, we can now see what work the High School is to do.

First of all, let's do a pair of specks and scrutinize the Grade X curriculum. Let us first concern ourselves with English. The new "Pictorial" contains many stories as "Reynard, the Fox," "Pied Piper of Hamelin," "John Gilpin" which are necessarily Grade III stories based on material fact. But the objective in English, I believe, is more a matter of inductive reasoning by the student. A parent should not think his or her child is neglected in the more advanced classes in which stories as the English and Grammatical point in very necessary. Poems of inspiration also dominate the book. "The Violinist" is probably outstanding. For deeper thought, the supplementary work covers the average student range of knowledge and vocabulary. "Twelfth Night" "Greenmantle," a "Shakespeare" play, and Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities." Therefore, I believe the new course is superior to the old one except for the financial embarrassment it places us on, and don't forget to see that your son or daughter has memory work ready for Friday morning. This is a "weakly" poem injected into the mind. Two doses sure to kill—But if not taken, Mr. Meeres sure to kill. So parents, if you understand the tenth year student case as to Literature and Composition.

6—ouch for this week on subjects. Our High School reporter has managed to gain a few grains of gossip which to some may be the "city in their soup," but its only joke and let be "the apple in your cheese cake" as Sagar George O. Geestly would say.

Geestly
Mr. Meeres is a very strict disciplinarian as far as talking goes. We wonder what Carolyn will do. Gordon Smith requested to put out a cat—permanently.
Oscar Ingerberg being told his character... and was his face red.
Bob Currie and Hugh Berry have room for talent in their voices. We can't see it.
Something is lacking in High School could it be "Daddy".
Ramsay Broadfoot expanding his knowledge of the Junior play.
Babe Bassano finding trouble with his memory work.

The Bulgarians having plant trouble Archie MacLean having "her" to play snooker on Friday night.
Mr. McLaws is in a quandary as to the authors of this column. We hope he doesn't find out.
Mr. A. S. Currie certainly startled the kids when he belittled violence the other day. . . . We imagine he could sure holter too.
Due to the wariness of the students there is not much gossip this week, but you can depend on much more next week. . . . we hope.

FOR SAFETY ON HIGHWAYS

However alarming our national highway accident rate may be, and however much it may call for decisive action, if the story for safety achievements could be adequately written, the oil industry would rank high in the list of contributions.

In the face of public demands the automobile centers have been powerless to hold back advances in design and let it be said to their credit that they have matched every increase in power with a corresponding increase in safety. Models of today with all their speed are actually safer than those of a few years ago.

But it is not enough that a motor vehicle be built safe. It must also be maintained in safe condition, and no one realizes this better than the manufacturer.

The oil refiner and compounder, for instance, contribute to safety by spending vast sums each year in developing specialized fuels and lubricants embodying the extra degree of protection that means an extra measure of safety.

The oil marketing companies contribute to safety by providing safe lubricants and equipment for an efficient and universally available lubrication service. With a full sense of their responsibility, they have invested millions in efficient facilities and millions more in educating their men to rigid standards of service.

In the afternoon fixture of the double header played on the local diamond, the Arrowwood boys dropped the decision to Medicine Hat to the tune of 7-5. Lester on the mound for the locals pitched wonderful ball but lack of support lost the game.

In the evening fixture, with Irwin doing mound duties, the support tightened and the local were able to take the decision with a score of 2-1. On Monday the final game of the round was played, the visitors taking it with a 5-3 score. The local boys are not happy but they will say this, that next year they will field a stronger team than has yet been picked from Arrowwood and surrounding districts.

BUSINESS RULES OF THE GOOD OLD DAYS

Straight and Narrow Path Demanded of Employees in the Eighties

Here are the rules of a Chicago department store, printed in the 1880's and reproduced recently in the Rotarian Magazine.

1. Stores must be open from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m., year-around.

2. Store must be swept, counters shelves and showcases dusted; lamp trimmed, filled and chimneys cleaned; pans made; doors and windows opened; a pail of water and a bucket of coal brought in, before breakfast. (If there is time to do so: attend to customers who call.)

3. The store must not be opened on the Sabbath, unless necessary, and then only for a few minutes.

4. The employee who is in the habit of smoking Spanish cigars, being shaved at the barber's, going to dances and other places of amusement, will eventually give his employer reason to be suspicious of his integrity and honesty.

5. Each employee must pay not less than $1 per week to the Church; must attend Sunday School regularly.

6. Men employees are given one evening a week for courting, and two if they go to prayer meeting.

7. After fourteen hours in the store, the leisure hours should be spent for the most part in reading.

Back to the good old days! Evidently they are but a myth.
